General Bingham on Order No. 11.

A REVIEW OF ONE OF THE GREATEST OUTRAGES IN MILITARY HISTORY.

[From the Mo. Republican, March 1, 1877.]

JEFFEERSON CITY, February 22d, 1877.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN—DEAR SIR:—We, the undersigned members of the Missouri Legislature representing counties embraced in the desolating order of General Thomas Ewing, issued in 1863, in justice to our constituents who were sufferers therefrom, respectfully request that the enclosed communication from General Bingham, in reply to the recent letter from Gen. Schofield vindicating such order, may be given a place in your paper. Very respectfully,

J. N. Nolan, Representative Second District, Jackson county; Henry H. Craig, Representative Fourth District, Jackson county; G. T. Ballingal, Senator Fifteenth District; B. F. Wallace, Representative First District, Jackson county; Wm. Hall, Representative Vernon county; John H. Sullens, Representative Bates county; J. F. Brockhart, Representative Cass county; T. P. Twiss, Representative Jackson county, Third District.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN.—My attention has been called to a letter which appeared in your paper of yesterday, written by Major-General Schofield, now in charge of the military academy at West Point, and addressed to General Thomas Ewing, of Lancaster, Ohio, for the purpose of relieving that gentleman from the odium which he has justly incurred by the well-known and infamous military order issued by him in 1863, in the enforcement of which a large and populous district of our State, embracing several counties bordering on the State of Kansas, was utterly dessolated, its inhabitants driven from their homes, their dwellings committed to the flames and their farms laid waste.

The General has exercised a caution, characteristic of all great military commanders, in allowing nearly fourteen years to transpire before venturing upon the defence of a measure which, for heartless atrocity, has no parelled in modern annals. He will be apt to discover, however, that there are those yet surviving who will be able to confront him in this prudently delayed effort to subordinate history to the service of tyranny.

He ventures to assert that "the order was an act of wisdom, courage and humanity, by which the lives of hundreds of innocent people were saved and a disgraceful conflict brought to a summary close." That "not a life was sacrificed, nor any great discomfort inflicted in carrying out the order," and that "the necessities of all the poor people were provided for and none were permitted to suffer."

Never did an equal number of words embody a greater amount of error.

The order was, soon after it was issued, denounced by the late General Clair, as an act of imbecility. Upon the supposition that it was intended to aid the cause of the Union and weaken that of the rebellion, his denunciation was certainly just. In view, however, of its purpose as revealed by its actual results, in the ruin of thousands of our citizens and the speedy transfer of their movable wealth to their dishonest neighbors in Kansas, it must be confessed that it exhibited the consummate wisdom of the serpent. Never was a robbery so tremendous more cunningly devised or successfully accomplished, with less personal risk to the robbers.

As an act of purely arbitrary power, directed against a disarmed and defenceless population, it was an exhibition of cowardice in its most odious and repulsive form.

Ascoutraging every principle of justice and doing violence to every generous and manly sentiment of the human heart, its title to be regarded as an act of humanity can only be recognized by wretches destitute of every quality usually embraced under that appellation.

It did not bring "a disgraceful conflict to a summary close." It, indeed, put an end to the predatory raids of Kansas "red legs and jaw-hawkers," by surrendering to them all that they coveted, leaving nothing that could further excite their cupidity; but it gave up the country to the bushwhackers, who, until the close of the war, continued to stop the stages and rob the mails and passengers, and no one wearing the Federal uniform dared risk his life within the desolate district.

I was present in Kansas City when the order was being enforced, having been drawn thither by the hope that I would be able to have it rescinded or at least modified, and can affirm, from painful personal observation, that the sufferings of its unfortunate victims, in many instances, were such as should have elicited sympathy even from hearts of stone. Bare footed and bareheaded women and children, stripped of every article of clothing except a scant covering for their bodies, were exposed to the heat of an August sun and compelled to struggle through the dust on foot. All their means of transportation had been seized by their spoilers, except an occasional dilapidated cart, or an old and superannuated horse, which were necessarily appropriated to the use of the aged and infirm.

It is well known that men were shot down in the very act of obeying the order, and their wagons and effects seized by their murderers.

Large trains of wagons extended over the prairies for miles in length and moving Kansasward, were freighted with every description of household furniture and wearing apparel belonging to the exiled inhabitants. Dense columns of smoke arising in every direction marked the conflagration of dwellings, many of the evidences of which are yet to be seen in the remains of seared and blackened chimneys, standing as melancholy monuments of a ruthless military dispotism which spared neither age, sex, character nor condition.

There was neither aid nor protection afforded to the banished inhabitants by the heartless authority which expelled them from their rightful possessions. They crowded by hundreds upon the banks of the Missouri river, and were indebted to the charity of benevolent steamboat conductors for transportation to places of safety where friendly aid could be extended to them without danger to those who ventured to contribute it.

Gen. Schofield represents the counties embraced in the order as having been nearly depopulated by "a savage guerilla warfare" which, for two years, had been waged therein; thus attempting to make it appear that the order operated only on a few remaining farmers who, "whether they sympathized with the guerrillas or not, were mere furnishers of supplies to these outlaws."

It is true that such a warfare has been waged, but the largest portion of the guerillas engaged in this warfare were the well-known "jaw-hawkers" and "red legs" of Kansas, acting under the authority of no law, military or civil, yet carrying on their nefarious operations under the protection and patronage of General Ewing and his predecessors from the State of Kansas. The others, constituting the more determined and desperate class, were chiefly outlawed Missourians, known as bushwhackers, and claiming to act under Confederate authority. Their numbers, however, were at all times insignificant in comparison with the Federal troops stationed in these countries.

As the inhabitants had all been disarmed by Federal military authority they were powerless to resist these outlaws, and, as General Schofield admits, were compelled to yield to their demands, whether willingly or unwillingly. Yet they were not, as General Schofield affirms, mere furnishers of supplies to these outlaws. On the contrary, it may be safely asserted that the supplies furnished by them to the Federal forces, if properly estimated, would reach twenty, if not fifty times the amount forced from them by bushwhackers. These desperate characters could at any time have been exterminated or driven from the country had there been an earnest purpose on the part of the Federal forces in that direction, properly braced by a willingness to incur such personal risks as become the profession of a soldier.

But the guerilla warfare raging in these countries had not, at the date of this order, nearly depopulated them, as alleged by General Schofield. The inhabitants possessed fertile and valuable lands. Many of them had become wealthy, and all possessed comfortable homes from which neither the tyranny of their military rulers nor the frequent depredations of Kansas "red-legs" and confederate bushwhackers had succeeded in expelling them. The sweeping and indiscriminate order, therefore, operated in all its diabolical and ruinous force upon a population quite as numerous as then inhabited an equal number of any other border counties of our State. I was present when an officer reported to General Ewing that several hundred citizens, in obedience to the order, had reported to the military post at Harrisonville, Cass county, and proved their loyalty to the satisfaction of the officer in command there, and earnestly requested that they might be armed in order to defend themselves and their property. This reasonable request was refused, it being doubtless intended that their property should supply other wants than those of its owners.

It it shall become necessary, I feel confident that it can be easily shown that not a reason given by General Schofield in justification of this crime against humanity has any just basis in the facts relating thereto. His effort to make it appear as the result of a necessity analogous to that which warranted the conflagration of Moscow is sufficient to excite the risibility of of any one familiar with the two cases. Napoleon was entering Moscow with a victorious and overwhelming force in the midst of a Russian winter, during which his only reliance for subsistence would have been upon the supplies stored within the limits of the city. The destruction, therefore, of these was the salvation of the Russian Empire. In the case of the measure which he undertakes to defend the overwhelming force was with General Ewing, whose duty it was to protect the people and expell the bushwhackers who infested their country. In doing this, however, he would necessarily have exposed himself and command to a few casualties incidental to war. He, therefore adopted the policy safest to himself, of expelling the disarmed and defenceless people, leaving the country in possession of their enemies, who had no difficulty in procuring all the supplies they needed in the counties immediately adjoining.

Such an order could scarcely be justified as directed against communities on a level in depravity with the ancient denizens of Sodom and Gomorrah, yet those whom it embraced in its ruinous sweep, in all the virtues which characterize a Christian community, would not have suffered in a comparison with any other rural population. Their political character may be best determined by a few facts of their history. In the election for members of our State Convention early in 1861, in which the question of secession was distinctly involved, not a single vote in the entire district desolated by this order was cast for a secession candidate, and those charged with being inclined in that direction were defeated by overwhelming majorities. During the entire period of the war, outraged and oppressed as they were, they furnished, at every call for troops to replenish the forces of the Union, their full quota by volunteers, thus responding to the necessities of their government without the compulsion of a draft.

General Schofield ungenerously attempts to make President Lincoln jointly responsible with himself and General Ewing for the execution of this order. It is evident, however, that the assent and approbation of the President were predicted solely on the representations of his General, and not upon the actual facts relating to the matter, of which he could have had no personal knowledge. It can be proved that he went up to Kansas City from his headquarters in St. Louis for the purpose of rescinding this order, from the execution of which purpose in harmony with the noble instincts of humanity, he was likely deterred by the same commanding influence which has induced him to attempt its defence.

General Ewing has doubtless discovered that this, his crowning military achievement of 1863, was not of a nature as well calculated to secure the favor of the Democracy with whom he is now associated, as it was to win to his support the Jay-hawkers and corrupt rabble of Kansas, through whose aid, there is reason to believe, he then looked for political preferment, and hence his effort, arising from the necessities of his shifted aspirations, to secure for it a gloss, which his associate, in responsibility therefore, has endeavored to put upon it, at the sacrifice alike of justice and truth.

G. C. BINGHAM,
Jefferson City, Feb. 22d.

Beginning to Show his Hand.

The President in an interview today said that for the past eight years there had been a great deal of reaction, retrogression, lawlessness, violence and murder in the South, and especially in Louisiana, where there were so many mixed races; that violence resulted almost spontaneously; that the worst thing that could happen to the South would be the success of the Democratic party; that either the few troops that are there should be taken away or more put on duty; that Packard's case had greatly improved to-day, judging from dispatches he had seen showing a weakening of Nicholls' forces; that if Packard's case continued to improve the commission to be appointed would see and so report, which would simplify matters very much; that the Democratic party of the South had better be broken up, if possible, and the color line obliterated by a new and better organization of the Republican party; that men who were in the White League and the Ku Klux organizations were lawless and ignorant, not respectable and intelligent; that out of the better class valuable addition had been made to the Republican party; that party in the South needs to be made better, and he thinks it can be, and that at all events it would be well to try and put an end to all disorder in the South by removing its cause—the color line—and at all events he would hold himself ready in case these views were found leading him in the wrong direction to change them speedily. The President continued: The freedmen will find me their friend, but they need other friends from among those who are now regarded as their enemies because of the race line. He expressed himself in terms of great charity for the South and yet he was most emphatic in his declaration that there should be law and order in that section. He further said that in no event would troops be withdrawn, but that on the contrary, Grant's last order regarding statu quo, would not be mentioned until the Commission returned, reported and a fixed policy should be agreed upon. The President intimated if Packard was not acknowledged, Nicholls would not be, but probably a new election would be held.

FOUR NEGROES HANGED.—AIKEN, S. C, March 16.—On the 24 of November last two quiet Germans, named Houseman and Portmann, living four miles from this place, were murdered, their house robbed, set on fire, and burned to ashes. Suspicion attached to five negroes, named Nelson Brown, Lucius Thomas, Adam Johnston, John Henry Denis, and Stephen Anderson, who were arrested. Proofs accumulated that they were the guilty persons, and they finally made confession, and also confessed to burning the Baptist Church at Aiken, murdering a white man named Levin, and other crimes. On Jan. 5 they were tried by a jury of twelve negroes, convicted and sentenced to be hanged on the 16th of March. Yesterday Gov. Hampton respited Anderson for thirty days. This morning the other four were hanged in the presence of about five thousand persons. The Sheriff had a posse of one hundred armed men guarding the gallows. The prisoners were attended by ministers of their own color. All addressed the crowd, confessing the murder, and acknowledging the justness of their sentence. Johnston insisted upon the son of his owner during slavery standing by him to the last. No efforts were made by the friends of the condemned men to rescue them, although threats were previously made. Each confessed his share in the murder. The drop fell at 12 o'clock, and the murderers expired almost without a struggle. The crowd then dispersed. Perfect order prevailed.

BABYLONIAN PRINTING MACHINE.—A great deal has been said as to the inventor of the art of printing, the period when the invention itself saw the light, and the locality where it was born. Two out of three of these points need not, however, excite discussion. It is a good while since the remark that "there is nothing new under the sun" was made, but anterior to that remote period—namely, some four thousand years ago—the first printing machine existed in Babylon. If proof be required of this rather startling assertion, it may be easily found, for it exists no further off than Trinity College, Cambridge. In that place there is preserved a solid cylindrical figure about seven inches in length, and three inches in diameter at each end. On the surface of this miniature cask-like cylinder minute and finely-wrought characters are engraved, and these are arranged in vertical lines. It is, therefore, a striking example of the ingenuity of the ancients, and shows their method of preserving and multiplying national or family records. It is quite evident from the indented lettering of the Babylonian printing machine—for such it really is—that some means of applying pressure to it was in use among the Ninevite "typos." This being so, the printing appliance at Cambridge might be said to embody the identical principle of the newspaper machines at the present day.—London Echo.

THE EARTH'S HINGE—OR WHERE THE SUN JUMPS A DAY.—Chatham Island, lying off the coast of New Zealand, in the South Pacific Ocean, is peculiarly situated, as it is one of the inhabited points of the globe where the day of the week changes. It is just in the line of demarkation between dates. There high twelve on Sunday or noon ceases, and instantly Monday meridian begins. Sunday comes into a man's house on the east side, and becomes Monday by the time it passes out the western door. A man sits down to his noonday dinner on Sunday, and it is Monday before he finishes it. There Saturday is Sunday and Sunday is Monday, etc. It is a good place for people who have lost much time, for, by taking an early start, they can always get a day ahead on Chatham Island. It took philosophers and geographers a long time to settle the puzzle of where Sunday noon ceased and where Monday began with a man travelling west fifteen degrees an hour, or with the sun. It is hoped that the next English Arctic expedition will settle the other mooted question, "Where will one stop who travels northwest continually."

Hayes Attempting to Obtain Support Under False Pretences.

TO THE EDITOR N. Y. SUN—Sir: It is being industriously advertised that our fraudulent President is "a very pious man," "an earnest and devoted Christian," "regularly conducts family worship in his own household," etc.

Now, it is not the first time in the history of the Republican party that they have stolen the livery of heaven to serve the devil in. And, as on all former occasions, their object is to enlist the religious sentiment of the country in behalf of his fraudulent Administration. The religious sentiment exerts a powerful influence in our politics and if it can be captured by Hayes and his party they will have gained a very powerful ally. The effort has been partially successful, and will, if allowed to go on unchecked, be entirely so at no distant day.

It is an alarming fact that, upon the bare assertion that Hayes is a man of a religious character, the religious sentiment of the country is to rally around the President who owes his position to a system of the most unblushing villainies ever known in the history of politics? Is it not a fearful sign of our moral decadence when the ministers of the religion of Jesus, the recognized guides of the community in moral and religious things, are willing to condone the greatest crime of the age, provided they can only be made to believe the embodiment of the monstrous villainy is a "religious man?" The glaring fact that religion can no more hold communion with fraud than Christ with Belial, that the receiver of stolen goods must forever remain the accomplice of thieves until he repents and makes restitution, is entirely overlooked. The people are to be taught that vice is virtue, that hypocrisy is religion, that moral leprosy is purity itself provided only they can be garnished over with the bare forms and technicalities of law!

But on matters of religion Hayes is no less a fraud upon the public than he is in the Presidential Chair. He is not a religious man, never was a member of any church, never made a profession of religion, and never conducted family worship in his household or anywhere else. In this, at least, he is consistent; for no man possessing the least modicum of moral or religious principle should ever consent to become a fraudulent President.

JOHN MILLIKEN, 15 William street.

THE BLESSING OF GOOD WIVES.—No companion so valuable and safe can a man have as a discreet and godly wife. It is her province and care to make her home neat and attractive in appearance; genial, sweet and healthy in atmosphere—the place to which her husband shall turn with glad and longing heart. It is her aim to be in person and manner so engaging, in spirits so fresh, in affection so genuine and true, in thought so elevated and pure, that he shall seek her companionship with never-failing zest and joy. And it is by such companionship that a sweet and refined woman moulds and fashions her husband to a grace and worth to him attainable in no other way. Her delicate sense seizes upon, and unconsciously elevates his esthetic nature. He grows up toward her standard of good taste. The gentleness of her spirit woos the slumbering nobility of his nature to the fortune of life, and makes him great in the strength of manly tenderness. Her piety, more simple, trustful and steadfast than his, sweetly holds him to truth, to duty and to God. Her grace of manner gently smooths away masculine roughness and angularity. A most mighty wielder of the moral pruning knife is a judicious wife. One by one, eccentricities and rudeness from the outer life, excrescences and vicious growths from the inner life, are cut away, until the man, in character and conduct, is rounded and complete.—The Monday Club.

CONGRESSMAN LUTTRELL.—Congressman J. K. Luttrell was on the train which arrived early this morning. As a representative of the people of the district from which he was chosen he has acquitted himself brilliantly and honorably. We venture to say that no man elected to represent the people of any district in California has labored more earnestly and conscientiously to promote the interests of his constituents than the Honorable J. K. Luttrell. He can need no eulogy from us. His acts as a Congressman are inscribed in the archives of his country, and form the chaplet of merit which his constituency has put upon his brow. A far-seeing, practical man, a thorough and uncompromising Democrat, keenly alive to the wants of the people, and ever on his guard against the dark and corrupt plots of the enemies of good government, he has proven himself a tried and trusty servant and a man whom the people can ill afford to lose. He comes once again among us to receive that manly welcome which is no more than his due, and the thanks of his supporters for his straightforward and fearless course.—S. F. Mail.

BENEFITS OF SUNSHINE.—An interesting proof of the sanitary influence of the sunlight has been given recently in an experiment by a distinguished English physician. He received from India some poison of the cobra, on ivory points. He exposed these points in a glass bottle to the sunlight, wrapping a portion of them in paper. He found that on some of the points that had been exposed to the light, the poison had become inert, while on those in the same bottle that had been wrapped in the paper the poison still retained its fatal activity. Hence the physician argued that the sunlight might in the same way destroy the poison of smallpox, scarlet and typhoid fevers. And yet, knowing the healthful powers of sunshine, there are persons unwise enough to shut the bright beams out of their dwellings, and keep invalids, who doubly need its cheerful influence, in darkened rooms, from which every ray is carefully excluded.

HOW $7,000 IN GREENBACKS CAME BACK.—A singular recovery of stolen money is reported. Mr. Hopkins, of the Central Pacific Railroad Company, entered a broker's office on Montgomery street, and, while conversing with one of the firm, laid down on the counter a package containing $7,000 in greenbacks. He departed, leaving the package on the counter, but returned after going a few paces, and to his great chagrin found that the notes had been abstracted. Two ladies and two gentlemen were in the office at the time on business, and only one of these was in the place when he returned. A few days afterward the notes were returned to the Central Pacific Company's offices through the mails. There was no explanation, and none has since been sought.—Call.

Mr. Moody.

From the Chicago Evening Journal of a recent date we extract the following comment:—"Nobody we presume, regards Mr. Moody as infallible, but, from his point of view and with his end in view, he has made but few mistakes. Plenty of people, who have not gone to the meetings, retain their prejudices still; but we believe that most who have gone to them have seen and felt that he knows his business. They have felt, too, that he is a large, sound, whole-souled man, most refreshingly and absolutely in earnest, intent on dealing honestly with men as men, and making his appeals only to such motives and considerations as is manly and worthy for every one to be influenced by. He has taken his own advice. He has experienced what he recommends. He has been plain, but not at all denunciatory. He thinks that all sinners are in danger, and he tells them so; yet he does not try to scare them into virtue. He believes his Bible—is chock full of it. Every fibre of his being is saturated with it. However deficient in general learning he knows the Book. And he knows men—one class as well as another. He reaches the masses, because he aims at the mass. For precisely the same reason, and in the same way, he reaches equally the man and woman of culture. It is believed that there have been about as many conversions in the church as out. A good many ministers have evidently experienced a change of heart, and given their church a new minister without a change of name. But the most remarkable feature of all in this recent religious movement in Chicago has been its effects among men who were either confirmed drunkards, or else were fast nearing the perilous edge. As near as we can learn, there have been as many as a thousand drinking men who have been first converted and thereby saved, to all appearance, from their enslavement to affliction and vice. The Friday noon meetings for the intemperate have been, whatever the explanations given, simply wonderful. If the witnesses who have, with entire accord, given their testimony, can be believed—and their testimony will be accepted in any court of justice in the land—they have found out the sovereign remedy for drunkeness and pointed out a new path for the temperance reform."

NO MORE USURPATIONS.—Many persons with more faith perhaps than perception, have within a few years past laughed at the fancy that an individual will might be sometime set above all the guarantees of American freedom; but the shameful fact that the word of one man as set against the will of a majority in two States is sufficient evidence for those who regard the case so seriously, since what could happen in two States might happen in twenty. Order, it is true, must be preserved; but the history of the world is before us to show it that the name of order the foot of the oppresser is always put upon the liberties of the people. It is a wise concession to the opinion of the country that has determined this last important act of President Grant's administration, and it will always be regretted that the light which enabled the executive to see his way clear to this just proceeding did not dawn upon him earlier. There is no safety to the States of this Union except in government of the will of the majority. Any system by which a minority in a State is kept in power throughout its relations with the Federal authority must, if continued, necessarily lead to ruin.—N. Y. Herald.

WHAT HAYES SAYS.—From a dispatch in this paper it will be seen that his Fraudulency, Returning Board Hayes is sitting in his seat and sticking out the cloven foot which he tried in the first place to hide. His suggestions about the Democratic party in the South, are impudent and out of place in one who is himself a creature of fraud. His slur on the people of the South indicates that he has failed in the "soft soap" policy, by which he tried to bribe Southern members of Congress to support his Administration and secure the organization of the House of Representatives. The honest men of the South, like honest men every where, while they recognize him as President de facto, regard him personally as a fraud, and so he will prove himself to all parties before the close of his term. He should always keep in mind that he holds his office by sufferance, not by right nor by the will of the people. What would become a man with clean hands and an untainted title to the high office he holds would be very much out of place in Mr. Hayes.—Sonoma Democrat.

RAVAGES BY CRICKETS.—Black crickets are ravaging the fields in some places around Dixon in an extraordinary manner. S. G. Little has a sheep pasture of 2,000 acres, seven miles southeast from Dixon, which has been eaten as clean as a floor, so that it is impossible for the sheep to gain any subsistence from it. There are 10,000 acres which have suffered, but the land of Mr. Little has been especially devastated. Mr. Snyder, owning land adjoining, has had his cow pasturage so completely ruined that he has sold his herd, comprising forty or fifty head, to keep it from starving. To the east of the town there is also a tract that has suffered. A Bushard reports that the crickets are eating his feed, while on John Burke's ranch they have turned their attention to the summer fallowed barley. It is a phenomenon which surprise the old farmers.—Post.

SANTA ROSA'S GROWTH.—The growth of Santa Rosa during the past six years has been at least equal to any interior city in the State. From a village at that time it has grown to be a city of over 5,000 inhabitants and its progress is still onward. Its streets are well graded, and lighted with gas in the business portion; it is well supplied with water from the water company's works; a street railroad is now being constructed and will be in full operation in a few weeks. Manufactories of various kinds have been established and others are contemplated; more than one thousand students attend its colleges and public and private schools, and buildings are going up in all parts of it. We feel assured that a bright future awaits this young city, and that it has not yet half reached the acme of its prosperity.—Sonoma Democrat.

With a Weekly Supplement.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF YOLO COUNTY.

FOR PRESIDENT IN 1880:

SAMUEL J. TILDEN;

AND FOR VICE-PRESIDENT,

THOS. A. HENDRICKS.

WOODLAND, CAL:

Thursday, April 5th, 1877.

LOW INTEREST.—Money is so plentiful in San Francisco that parties are advertising in the papers to loan it at eight per cent. a year on first-class security.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.—It seems that the Democrats made considerable gains in New Hampshire at the last election, having reduced the Radical majority 950 since November.

DEMOCRATIC VICTORIES.—At the election in Columbus, Ohio, on the 3d instant the Democrats elected their Mayor. They did the same in Cleveland, the Council however being Republican.

ACCIDENTALLY POISONED.—A special dispatch from our Dixon correspondent received last evening, informs us that three members of the family of Mr. Claus Jansen, of Dixon, were accidentally poisoned by arsenic. He adds that they will probably recover.

"THE ARGONAUT."—This is the name of a very nicely gotten up San Francisco weekly paper edited by Frank M. Pixley and Fred M. Somers, both of whom have heretofore been connected with the Chronicle. It will no doubt make its mark in the field of journalism.

THE NEW WONDER.—The telegraph informs us that on the first of April an exhibition of the telephone was given in New York. A piano performed upon at Philadelphia, 100 miles distant, was distinctly heard in Steinway Hall, New York. There was no "fooling" about it either.

CONVERSION OF THE JEWS.—The Dixon Tribune speaks very highly of a discourse delivered in that town on this subject by Dr. Peck of Woodland, who is a converted Jew, and professor of languages. The Tribune says the Dr. was greeted with full houses, and hopes he will favor them again soon.

IMPROVED PROSPECTS SOUTH.—Last week the Southern counties of the State were blessed with from one to three inches of rain. Though this comes too late to avail much in saving grain crops, it will at least bring on feed for stock, make a hay crop and enable farmers to summerfallow for another year. The farmers of course feel jubilant and grateful.

OMINOUS WORDS.—The Journal des Debats, Paris, says: "Mr. Hayes is named President of the United States. The result is not one of which the friends of republican institutions can be proud. If the fact is true, as Montesquieu asserted, that the republican form of government is based on virtue, we have great fears that the foundations of the great Republic of the New World are terribly tottering."

WITHDRAWN.—The fangs of Radicalism seem to be loosening their deathly grip upon the people of the South. We publish elsewhere the order for the removal of troops from the State House of South Carolina, accompanied with the statement that Chamberlain will submit. Had there been no Federal interference in South Carolina there would have been peace long ago and the consequent prosperity that usually attends that happy condition. But then, South Carolina would have been lost to Hayes; that's just what's the matter.

NEW PATENTS.—Through Dewey & Co., Patent Agents, San Francisco, we receive the following list of U. S. patents, granted to Pacific Coast inventors, viz: R. Martin, Portland, Ogn., stoves for heating sad-iron; R. Bandhauer, Denver, Col., compound medal-working machines; J. L. Quackenbush, Portland Ogn., convict shackles; J. P. Beaman, S. F., attachments for invalid bedsteads; G. A. Church, Nevada City, Cal., ore-feeders for quartz mills; E. F. Littlepage, Los Angeles, Cal., automatic feeders for furnaces; J. H Mackie, Oakland, Cal., sink and sewer trap.

"IMPORTANT IF TRUE."—Under this heading a new Orleans dispatch of the 2d says: "The Times to-morrow will contain a statement from high Republican sources that it has been recently discovered that the eight Electoral votes of Louisiana properly belong to Governor Tilden, and that testimony will be furnished him in the prosecution of his suit under a writ of quo warranto." Now isn't that astonishing! Every school-boy in the land knew that nearly five months ago, and the Republican telegraph and press admitted it until it was found that the vote of Louisiana must be stolen in order to make the necessary one majority to count Hayes in upon. And it was accordingly stolen. This is not denied by respectable men. We trust the reported quo warranto suit will be instituted and prosecuted by Mr. Tilden; not that we have any hope of his obtaining justice—that quality has departed from our highest judicial tribunal—but that the true state of the case may be presented in all its details to the American people.

A Square Deal.

We have too many elections in this State. This we believe to be the general opinion of its voters and taxpayers. The excitement is not yet entirely over in regard to the results of the late protracted struggle, nor will it be until the Federal government ceases to interfere in local matters, as it did interfere with the November election, by keeping troops in South Carolina and Louisiana, where they have no business except to serve as a means of keeping up agitation, and this in order to make it appear that the Administration in Washington is only acting in the interest of peace and good order. But this is so transparent that the people can see through it and clearly observe the true motive behind it.

Our purpose now is, to speak of the local election soon to take place in Yolo County. Under the present arrangement the people must submit to another election for State legislators and County officers next Fall, and in order to be able to put forth their full strength parties are beginning to get ready for the struggle. Candidates for the various offices are in the field, and as usual quite enough of them to fill every position to be supplied.

There has been a great deal of complaint as to the manner in which our last county election was conducted, which complaint is not believed to be entirely groundless—complaints as to the Primaries, the Convention and the manner in which the canvass was conducted after the nominations were made.

It is well known that the Democrats have a majority of fully two hundred in the county, and yet from some cause, or rather, we are inclined to think, from a combination of causes, the Republicans get away with the most important offices in the county. This ought to be, and can be, prevented. How to do it is the question.

Correspondents are advocating the plan of voting direct for candidates at the Primaries, so as to have the real choice of the people in the nomination of officers, letting the County Committee canvass the returns from the Primaries and declare the nominees to be those who have received the highest number of votes from the people in their primary capacity—delegates of course being elected to the County Convention for the transaction of other party business. Whether this would work well we are not entirely sure, yet cannot see why it would not. Certain it is that something ought to be done to avoid the difficulties and disputes that have heretofore arisen in nominating conventions—something that will secure harmony in our own party all the way through the fight. It may be that the plan proposed would aid in effecting this much to be desired result.

Another thing we feel called upon to mention for the good of the people and of the party before the campaign opens, and that is, that everything in the shape of bargaining between candidates should be opposed and avoided. If a candidate is placed in nomination by his party friends, it is his duty to work for the whole ticket, not for a part of his own and a part of that of the opposing party. To say the very least, such a course is dishonorable, not to call it by a worse name. It must not be permitted, and to prevent it, candidates should be firmly bound in some way not to turn traitors to any part of their ticket for the sake of securing votes for themselves. And we advise that gentlemen be nominated who will help to carry the whole ticket and nothing but the ticket. This is what is said to have defeated a part of our ticket heretofore. It is simply outrageous that such things should be allowed. And with the Democratic strength we have in this county there is no excuse for any such action.

Democrats of Yolo, our party won a clear victory in the late national political struggle, notwithstanding it is not permitted to enjoy the fruits of it; and it was won honorably, fairly, without resort to false counts, wicked bargains with opposition candidates or the aid of villainous Returning Boards--rather, that victory was won in the face of all these. Let the Democracy of Yolo enter the coming contest determined to win honorably, relying upon the justice of their cause and the purity of their principles, and with capable and competent candidates as the other important consideration, they cannot fail of victory. Short of compliance with these conditions, any party deserves defeat.

In our local elections we have no fears that the result could be as it has been in that of the nation—one party win and the other take the offices. That thing could be seen to and taken care of properly. We shall not be likely to have any Returning Boards in Yolo by that time. For the sake of honest government, we hope there will never will be another heard of upon the face of the earth.

Democrats have it in their power to elect every candidate to be elected, if they put up their best men, and we intend to look after the matter a little from this time.

NO ALLIANCE WITH HAYES.—I do not find among the Democrats in Congress the slighest disposition to form an alliance with the new administration. They are not to be humbugged by general and pretty-sounding phrases in an inaugural, but will judge the new administration by its acts. It is well understood that an effort will be made to capture the organization of the next House of Representatives by the free use of Government patronage, but it will fail in this connection. I wish to say that it was an impudent slander to state that the friends of the Texas Pacific Railroad in Congress have had any sort of intercourse or arrangement with the friends of Governor Hayes. This slander was started by the tools of rival railroad interests.—Washington Telegram to Courier Journal.

Cottonwood Correspondence.

WEST COTTONWOOD, March 29th, 1877.

EDITOR DEMOCRAT.—Since the publication of my letter of March 5th I have seen and consulted with many of the leading Democrats of the county, and with few exceptions all agree that the plan is a good one and one that should be adopted. I have also seen a late letter from Davisville, published in the Winters Advocate endorsing the plan therein set forth, and which says that it was endorsed by all the leading Democrats of Davisville. It also proposed that a petition be started immediately by the Democrats of that place. We hope that the suggestion has been followed and that the petition has been started. I was in Woodland a few days ago, and finding that some of the old leaders did not approve of the plan proposed in my letter of the 5th instant, I made it a point to see them, in order to find out the objectionable features, but was unable to do so, further than the probability that a candidate might be nominated without receiving a majority of the Democratic votes of the county. It is considered by them that there is likely to be more than two candidates for the nomination of each of the various offices to be filled and if so, nomination were likely to be made by plurality votes; thus clinging to the old and exploded arguments that have been so often made use of to deceive the masses by leaving an impression on their minds that a candidate nominated under the delegate system was, without doubt, the choice of a majority of all the voters, etc. This, I say is not a fact, so far as choice by a majority of the voters is concerned, prior to the assembling of Conventions, for I am almost sure that since the admission of the State there never has been a Primary Election held in which a majority of all the voters in the great leading political parties participated. It is an unquestionable fact that nearly all Primaries are managed and participated in by a very few, and that few containing all the wire-pullers and tricksters that belong to the party holding said election. Now, as a general rule, the best men we have and those who are the furthest from intrigue and trickery, never go to primaries or have anything to do with them; and when the ticket is made up they go to the polls and vote for the men that have been nominated, believing them to be the exponents of the principles they endorse. But if when we vote in Primaries we vote directly for our choice of candidates, men will feel a very different interest and many men will attend and take part in the Primaries who otherwise would not think of such a thing, believing as they do that their efforts to cope with Primary jobbers and Convention tricksters would be useless and futile.

Now, Mr. Editor, I do not advocate the plan suggested in the letter published in your issue of March 15th from a mere desire for experiment, but from what I conceive to be two good and valid reasons. The first one is, I am sure that we must harmonize and unite our disaffected elements or defeat is certain. The second is, that I have been watching the operations of the plan suggested and its workings in two or three of the counties of this State where it has been adopted, is in full operation in all its bearings and is overwhelmingly endorsed by the Democrats of said counties; having been in operation in some of them for nearly ten years, it has healed all the sore heads of said counties; and after witnessing its effects on heads that were considered incurable and beyond the power of any remedy, have seen them completely healed and scarcely a scar left to mark the place where the wound was inflicted. How can I fold my arms and cry "peace, peace," when I see so many of my neighbors, friends and brethern of the Democratic party in such agonies of torture? when I know that many cases of the same disease have been effectually cured by the remedy here proposed?

I will say further, that in my opinion we have never had a county or district election in this State fraught with as great interest to the people of the whole United States as the ensuing one. We will elect a United States Senator by our next Legislature to succeed Mr. Sargent, and among the holdover Senators of our next State Legislature sixteen are Democrats, three Republicans, and one (Hon. Creed Haymond,) an Independent. Now if the Democrats poll the same vote in the Districts which elect this Fall, we will have a Democratic majority on joint ballot in our next Legislature, and that will give us a Democratic United States Senator. This, in all probability, will give us a Democratic majority in the United States Senate, and then the Democratic cock can flap his wings and crow, for the liberties of the American people will be safe notwithstanding Returning Board Hayes is the de facto President. There can scarcely be a doubt that the contest this Fall will be a hot one in California. The batteries of the whole Radical party will concentrate in California, and our efforts will have to be indefatigable, for we cannot afford to loose one inch of the ground that we now hold.

The new town of Madison is improving very rapidly. Several new buildings are now in process of construction, two of which are intended for mercantile houses, one of them to be occupied by Mr. A. Haines, of Cottonwood, and the other by W. Lang, of Capay. Both will be in operation in a short time and ready to supply their customers with almost anything they may wish. There is near five miles of the railroad track now completed, and the remainder we understand will be speedy built.

The Order of Caucasians completed an organization at the Town of Langville on the 26th inst., and elected the following as officers for the present term: J. H. Norton, W. C.; J. H. B. Wyatt, C. C.; Fredrick Frund, R. S.; Wm. T. Moore, Financial Secretary; James McHenry, Constable; M. C. Nurse, Treasurer; C. C. Clark, Warden; E. B. McCray, Sentinel; J. F. Field, M. of C. The Camp is called No. 81. The next meeting will occur Friday, April 6th, at half past seven o'clock P. M. Members of adjoining Camps are cordially invited.

We understand that J. D. Stephens & Co. are about commencing an irrigating ditch, tapping Cache Creek somewhere in the vicinity of the Clear Lake dam, above Langville, for the purpose of irrigating lands on the south side of Cache Creek. The ditch is to be about eight miles in length. The eastern terminus will be somewhere near the town of Madison. We wish them much success in the enterprise and hope it will be the forerunner of a much more extensive enterprise of the same nature, for without water we are only farmers of chance and can make no safe calculations on our crops. The fine fields of grain that looked so promising a short time ago are now beginning to show the effect of dry weather, and much of the grain that was thought a short time ago to be almost sure for a fine yield is now considered next to worthless.

Well, I have some other matters that might be of interest to some of your readers, but fearing I have already trespassed, I well mention them in my next.

As ever yours,
HOMO SUI JURIS.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—A collision occurred yesterday morning about 95 miles east of Sacramento between the overland passenger train from the East and a special freight train, by which three engine men were killed and another nearly so. Both engines were smashed and the trains thrown from the track.

Order for the Removal of Troops.

WASHINGTON, April 3d.—The following letter was written by the President and sent to the Secretary of War to-day:

EXECUTIVE MANSION,
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 3, 1877.

SIR: Prior to my entering upon the duties of the Presidency there had been stationed, by order of my predecessor, in the State House at Columbia, South Carolina, a detachment of United States Infantry. Finding them in that place I have thought proper to delay a decision of the question of their removal until I could consider and determine whether the condition of affairs in that State is now such as to either require or justify a continued military occupation of the State House. In my opinion there does not now exist in that State such domestic violence as is contemplated by the Constitution as a ground upon which the military power of the National Government may be invoked for the defence of a State. There are, it is true, grave and serious disputes as to the rights of certain claimants to the Chief Executive office of that State, but they are to be settled and determined by such orderly and amicable methods as may be provided by the Constitution and laws of the State. I feel assured no resort to violence is contemplated in that quarter, but that on the contrary, the disputes in question are to be settled solely by such peaceful remedies as the Constitution and laws of the State provide. Under these circumstances and in this confidence I now deem it proper to take action in accordance with the principles announced when I entered upon the duties of President. You are therefore directed to issue the proper orders for the removal of all troops from the State House to their previous place of encampment

(Signed) R. B. HAYES.

To Hon. George W. McCrary, Secretary of War.

The Secretary of War states that the order for the removal of troops will be sent by mail, and that the actual transfer will not take place until about the 10th inst.

CHICAGO, April 3d.—The Journal's Washington correspondent says: "Chamberlain has informed his friends that he will not make further contest over the Governorship of South Carolina. He will return to Columbia to-night, and when the troops are withdrawn he and the other State officers will retire at the same time, leaving Hampton in undisputed possession.

LOUISIANA.—A New Orleans dispatch of April 2d gives the situation in that State as follows:

Two Returning Board members of the Packard House—Fred. Cobb, of Ascension, and N. B. Durand, of Bassier Parish—to-day were sworn in as members and took seats in the Nicholls House, which now has fifty-three Returning Board members. F. E. Heath, of Webster Parish—returned by the Board but not elected, and heretofore occupying a seat in the Packard House—appeared before the Nicholls Legislature and was accorded the privileges of the floor. He said: "Recognizing that the government now established by Nicholls is the only government in the State that can give permanent peace and prosperity to our troubled people, I feel it my duty to aid as much as possible in bringing about harmony and good feeling. I now tender my resignation of all claims that I may have on the General Assembly, in order that my appearance here may not be misunderstood. I desire to avow now, as in the past, my fidelity to the great principles of the Republican party."

The bill placing the Police department under the control of the City Government having been promulgated, the Police Commissioners to-day waited on Mayor Pillsbury and turned over to him the administration of the police force.

Town and County Matters

Every letter or communication to the DEMOCRAT should bear the name of the author, not necessarily for publication, but as a guaranty of good faith.

PROPER ENTERPRISE. — At their meeting on Monday evening last, the Town Trustees took action toward the establishment of street lamps, to be lighted by gas, one at each of the crossings of Main street—an excellent arrangement. They also ordered three more hydrants—one at Bynum & Co's corner, another at the crossing of Fourth and Main streets, and a third at Third and Court streets. Of course others will be put in as the large iron pipes are extended. The large cistern is now all right and kept full. With these precautions and a good fire department equipped with a steam fire engine and other necessary apparatus, Woodland will be well guarded against the devouring element.

RACHEL.—Dr. Peck's lecture last Sunday evening at the Congregational Church on "Rachel, the Godly Woman," was very interesting, as it enabled the hearer to understand the Jewish position as regards the commission of sin by the more noted characters of the Bible. The speaker held that Rachel committed sin in stealing the images of her father, remarking that Moses and other noted heroes had sinned. But he took the broad view that none are without sin, and a person must be judged not alone by particular acts but by their general character and course in life, etc. The Dr. prayed earnestly for the conversion of his Jewish brethren.

FOR GOOD PICTURES OF CHILDREN, try the great Baby Photographer, J. ASHER, 236 J street, between 8th and 9th, Sacramento. As I have caught up with my work, I am now prepared to finish work in the best style at the shortest notice. 20

STILL OPEN.—The Centennial Museum, under Washington Hall, is still open day and evening. It consists of an almost endless number of stereoscopic views of interest to all classes, and particularly so are the Centennial views to those who had not the privilege of seeing the original, of which these views are an exact fac simile. Yosemite, Niagara, Swiss scenery and very many fancy scenes, altogether make it really a museum of art that all should see. Yet, for some unaccountable reason, but few have thus far visited it. The only reason we can think of is, that they are not aware that there is so really fine an exhibition in town.

A YOLOITE ROBBED.—Last Saturday's Sacramento Bee contained the following, the particulars of which we have not been able as yet to unravel: "A Yolo man who had a good time with a party of Sacramentans the other night failed to lock his door on retiring to rest, and the next morning he found himself minus $70, which had been stolen from his pocket while he slept."

VISIT OUR FINE ART GALLERY when in Sacramento. WOLFE & KILDARE, cor. J and 5th sts. tf20

DIED. — The Bee a few days since stated that a man named Jas. White hailing from Woodland stopped at the Parker House and represented that he was from Davisville. He said that he did not expect to live long and wanted to stay there a few days; and sure enough he died. Mr. L. Drummond, of Davisville, was sent for and took charge of the body.

OLD FOLKS' CONCERT.—The Old Folks' concert on Monday evening was a very nice entertainment and passed off with entire satisfaction to the large audience present. The oddity of the dresses added to the interest of the occasion. The music, both vocal and instrumental, was such as most people like, old and good.

ONLY FIRST-CLASS GALLERY in Sacramento, WOLF & KILDARE, cor. J and 5th sts. tf20

CRAYON DRAWINGS. — Mr. Price, of the Centennial Museum now on exhibition under Washington Hall, is executing some very artistic work in the way of crayon drawings, samples of which may be seen at the Post Office. Professor Price also teaches the art of crayon drawing.

MUSICAL.—There was a very nice entertainment at Knights Landing on Tuesday night which was attended by several persons from Woodland. The concert was given in aid of the funds of the M. E. Church Sunday School, and paid well.

AGAIN IN BUSINESS. — Mr. T. C. Pockman has again assumed charge of his well known livery stables in Woodland, and in a card to-day lets the people know it. That's the way to do business—"let your light shine."

MAY-DAY PICNIC.—The Woodland Turn-Verein will hold their annual May-Day Picnic, as heretofore mentioned, in Hunt's pasture, near Cache Creek. They are arranging so that all will be assured a good time.

NEW P. O. AND P. M.—The name and site of Cache Creek Postoffice, in this county, has been changed to Madison. Henry Craner has been appointed Postmaster at Madison.

THANKS.—Mrs. Edwards desires to to express her thanks to all who so kindly assisted her in her late concerts, and also to a generous public for their liberal patronage.

MAGIC LANTERN.—Professor E. M. Price will give a very entertaining magic lantern exhibition at Cacheville this evening. It is well worthy of patronage.

GRAND JURY REPORT.—Below is the report of the Grand Jury impanneled for the April term of the County Court of Yolo County:

To the Honorable the County Court of said County:—We, the Grand Jury impanneled at the April term A. D. 1877 of said Court, respectfully report: That we have investigated all charges against persons held to answer and all public offenses to which our attention has been called. That we have found six true bills, four for felony and two for misdemeanor, which are herewith presented.

We further report that we have visited the County Hospital, and find the building commodious, comfortable and well kept, but in this connection we suggest that a new cooking stove in the kitchen is needed and in our opinion a great saving to the county in the expense of fuel might be accomplished by such purchase; and we further suggest that a coat of paint upon the outside of the building is needed.

We have visited the County Jail and find the same secure; also the public offices situated in the Court House and commend the neatness and order exhibited therein.

That we know of no further business demanding the attention of the Grand Jury and ask to be discharged.

HENRY FURRY, Foreman.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH. — At the recent reorganization of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church, the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Joseph Lanman; Vice-President, Mrs. Geo. D. Fiske; Secretary, Mrs. Byron Jackson; Treasurer, Mrs. Thomas J. Dexter; Directors — Mrs. William Rawson, Mrs. A. C. Jackson, Mrs. E. R. Lowe, Mrs. J. W. Peek, Mrs. W. G. Hunt, Mrs. Harry Deaner, Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. Gilbert, Mrs. H. Stegall. The ladies intend holding a fair the coming Autumn, and are already planning and making ready for this object. Nearly every week are held pleasant meetings, at which the presence and help of all the ladies are desired. The meeting next week will be on Wednesday afternoon at Mrs. H. Stegall's, on Third street.

HO! FOR THE SPRING TRADE!—It is astonishing to notice the amount of business done by Mr. Alexander at the White House. When all other stores are empty and their unemployed clerks sitting on boxes looking at each other, not having anything else to do, the White House Dry Goods Store always has crowds of customers buying the finest kind of Spring Goods to supply their wants. It is no wonder that this house is doing the amount of business it is, for they really sell their goods from fifteen to eighteen per cent. cheaper than any other house. Their facilities for doing this easily accounts for it, one of the principal reasons being that Mr. Alexander buys all his goods for cash. His stock of Spring Clothing has been selected with elegant taste. He has Dress Goods in abundance suitable for May parties and picnics, and purchasers about to buy their Spring Goods will find it vastly to their advantage to price their goods, as no man can sell as cheap as A. Alexander, at the White House.

CROP PROSPECTS.—This is just the turning point in this county as to the crops. If we should have rain within a very few days there is still a prospect for good crops, but without it they will, as a general thing, be light in this county. Some pieces may make a fair yield without rain, but many fields will be very light—or a total failure. As we go to press there are indications of rain. We do not yet despair by any means. Good farmers tell us they have seen worse prospects in this county at this season and yet had first-rate crops, being saved by timely rains. The mildew seems to be dying out with the cool dry weather.

ATTACK UPON A JUDGE. — In the City Criminal Court of San Francisco the other day, Judge Ferrall was assaulted by attorney Tyler, when a clinch ensued, but the parties were separated before serious bodily injury was done to either. We opine, however, that Mr. Tyler will have to pay rather dearly for the indulgence of his passion before he is done with the matter.

RAG CARPETS.—Thomas McCanna has for several years been engaged in making rag carpets in Woodland, and is kept busy by orders from country and town. Every family, however poor, can have a neat carpet by preparing their rags and paying a small price per yard for weaving. Read Mr. McCanna's card.

WATER AND GAS.—Mr. Peek is taking up the wooden water-pipes on Third street and replacing them with iron ones that will be permanent. The Gas Company we understand is about to extend their pipes several thousand feet in different directions wherever there is inducement in the way of consumption.

SPLENDID MILLINERY. — Ladies visiting Sacramento are respectfully invited to call at Mrs. Murphy's, No. 165 J street, between 6th and 7th, and examine the new pattern bonnets and hats, which surpass anything we have ever seen in that style. The French flowers, silks and ribbons are entirely new in shades and style. We hope every lady will see for herself; at 165 J street, between 6th and 7th, Sacramento. 20

RAINFALL.—Previous to Thursday last the rainfall here amounted to 9.51 inches; on that day there was a fall of thirty-one hundredths of an inch, and on Saturday the 31st, eight hundredths, making a total for the season of 9.90 inches.

FOR SHERIFF.—The names of Assemblyman Jason Watkins and Town Trustee Washington Hiatt are mentioned in connection with the nomination for the office of Sheriff on the Democratic side of the House.

I. O. G. T.—The Good Templar's Entertainment at Langville on Monday evening passed off very pleasantly, and was largely attended.

NOTARY.—Governor Irwin has commissioned Thomas Mansfield as a Notary Public for Yolo county, to reside at Madison.

BALL AT BLACK'S.—A ball will take place at Turner's Hotel, Black's Station this evening.

THE SIMPLICITY OF IT.

Sermon Preached by Rev. Joseph Lanman, Sunday Evening, April 1st., in the Congregational Church, Woodland.

TEXT—II Kings, 5: 13 and 14: And his servants came near and spake unto him and said, My Father, if the prophet had bid thee do some great thing, wouldst thou not have done it? how much rather then, when he saith to thee, Wash and be clean? Then went he down and dipped himself seven times in Jordan, according to the saying of the man of God: and his flesh came again like unto the flesh of a little child and he was clean.

Naaman was a great man. His military genius had given deliverance to Syria. Tradition says his hand shot the arrow that fatally wounded Ahab and that this arrow broke the yoke that the Israelite had put upon his Syrian neighbor's neck. Naaman, like the first Napoleon, was a soldier of splendid courage and strength, as well as an inspiring leader. But he was a leper. No success, no personal qualities, no renown can secure a man from trouble. The riches of the rich man cannot raise him above, nor can the poverty of the poor man sink him below fear and care and sickness. The individual lifted to high official station, whether by the suffrages of his fellow-citizens or the will of his arbitrary Monarch, is by this very act loaded with official burdens. Naaman's disease was terrible—not only loathsome and painful, but incurable.

A RAY OF HOPE.

A little maid, kidnapped in some foray over the Israelite border, waited on Naaman's wife. The dark-eyed, dark-haired captive, far from her pleasant home and dear kindred, wept not only over her own trouble but for the greater misfortune of her mistress, and as she expresses her heart-felt sympathy, she reports the name and skill of the prophet of her Fatherland. Her words, perhaps including the story of Elisha's raising to life the son of the Shunamite, are repeated in the ears of Naaman's royal master. He sends his leprous captain to Jehoram the King of Israel, with a letter requesting that Elisha be commanded to bestow the desired cure. With this royal letter, Naaman bears a munificent gift of silver and gold, and beautiful raiment from the looms of Damascus. He goes first to the palace of the King and then to the humble dwelling of the man of God. Escorted by his military attendants and servants bearing the gifts, he draws up his proud-spirited horses and sends in for the prophet.

DISAPPOINTMENT AND ANGER.

Elisha sends out his servant with the simple direction to wash in Jordan seven times. Naaman was wroth and turned and went away in a rage. Surely, said he, the prophet himself should come out and call upon the name of his God and strike his hand over the leprous flesh. True, he promises that if I wash I shall be clean; but why must I wash in this insignificant Jordan? Are not the goodly rivers of Damascus better than all the waters of Israel? But a servant, wiser and better than he, said softly, My Father, if the prophet had bid thee do some great thing, wouldst thou not have done it? how much rather then when he saith to thee, Wash and be clean? Then went he down and dipped himself seven times in Jordan, according to the saying of the man of God: and his flesh came again like unto the flesh of a little child and he was clean.

THE SIMPLICITY OF THE MEANS WAS THE OFFENSE.

Naaman thought some great thing necessary. His disease was an awful affliction: in vain had he exhausted the resources of the Syrian physicians and tried without effect the most painful remedies: and now after all his efforts at home and the long journey abroad, he was enraged when he was told to dip himself in the despised river. Naaman reflects the common sentiment of humanity. The man for whose moral disorder leprosy is the acknowledged type, looks at himself anxiously and says surely some great curative process is necessary. If he lives in India and is told that he must wash in the Ganges, he endures the long, long pilgrimage, perhaps on his hands and knees, or it may be, measuring the whole distance by his prone body, that he may dip himself in the purifying waters: and the sun never rises that it does not look down on thousands of such worshippers. Or perhaps he worships Kali, and to please her cuts himself with knives, making the blood gush out; or lies down on a bed full of sharp-pointed blades, forbidding rest and causing agony; or he swings in the air by means of an iron hook thrust through the muscles of his back; or, if a young man, in the fullness of his strength, he may offer himself upon the altar of his cruel goddess. Look again on the festal day of another deity. The car of Juggernaut, sixty feet high, surmounted by a hideous, grinning image and bearing on a platform below a hundred bright-robed priests, moves along the crowded street; thousands of devotees tug at the ropes by which the huge car is drawn: many policemen are on hand to prevent the people throwing themselves beneath the wheels; but despite vigilant English authority, every now and then the ponderous car leaves behind it a crushed and shapeless religionist.

THE IDEA CURRENT EVERYWHERE.

In Christendom also, Naaman's thought and that of the idolater of India expresses itself. Some great thing must be done; some difficult process must be gone through; great moral disease requires a great cure.

Sometimes the difficulty is intellectual. The patient must understand the philosophy of the remedy. Before he can accept salvation, he must understand the whole of the doctrines. As if a thirsty man should refuse to drink till he learned how the two gases, hydrogen and oxygen, put together form water; and the mechanical principles by which the water is raised to the distributing reservoir: and the laws of gravity and motion under which the wind-mill turns. As if a hungry man should refuse bread till he could discover the chemistry of grain-growing.

The great thing that others undertake is the impossible task of living a life that will please God, without faith and love and without Christ. They are trying to do in earnest what certain roguish students did in fun, when they pulled up the Professor's peach trees and set them out again with the tops in the ground and the roots in the air: they are making the branches and the fruit grow before the roots. Just as if a river should say, I'll learn to keep my banks full, I will keep the meadows green, I will coquette with the branches of these over-hanging elms before I draw from the sweet mountain springs.

To do such and other great things, thousands wait and refuse to follow the easy advice of the man of God.

GOD'S WAYS ARE SIMPLE.

The law that shapes the tear and guides its trickling down the face of babyhood controls the water courses tumbling from Yosemite's dizzy heights. It is a sublime fact that the simple law that governs the earth in its unwearied flight around the sun, binds together in perfect order and harmonious movement the whole planetary system—and not it only but the universe of worlds. So in the moral realm, there are not ten laws but one: and this simple law of love—supreme love to God and unselfish love to man—if universally obeyed would keep all moral intelligences in blissful harmony as they moved in rythmic beauty around the great White Throne.

SIMPLICITY OF THE WAY TO BE SAVED.

The simplicity, characterizing all His ways, belongs to the way of salvation. Only believe—that is the whole of it; for the belief in Christ is sure to be followed by the Christian life. But you say, To bid me believe does not rid the subject of difficulty. How shall I know what believing is and that I believe? Let us then look at the business of religion in another way: this word believe, so easy to be understood in other connections, is dark and dogmatic when applied here. What is religion? It is being good and doing good. It is giving up what is wrong, and, so far as may be, with God's help, trying to do what is right. It is such a loving and trustful obedience to God as a child should feel and express to a good and wise Father. Christianity is keeping Christ's commandments. How then may you begin the Christian life? By obeying: without waiting, for feeling, or understanding or to live a moral life, begin by doing the first that duty to God and man requires. It may be confession of sin; it may be forgiveness of injuries; it may be visiting the sick; it may be public worship; it may be public avowal of hidden faith in Christ; but whatever may be duty, you begin Christian life by doing that duty. Begin by beginning. Is not this right? You are not required to begin at the heavenward end. Perfection is not expected at the beginning. Our dear Lord knows our weakness too well for that. Perfection will be reached slowly. Every day of willing but perhaps partially successful effort will make you feel like a child running to find the foot of the rainbow or like the recently deceased Hart, who for twenty years has been striving to work out in marble the womanly beauty of her whom, long ago, he loved and lost.

But you have begun aright, if from an imperfect beginning you are reaching forth unto those things that are before. You are believing if you are obeying Christ. Faith is such a conviction as leads to action, in accordance with the truth. Some years ago a scientific man predicted an unusual tide on the English coast. The fishermen and other boatmen who believed, hauled up their boats and removed their nets. The unbelievers left their property in dangerous places. You are showing your faith or unbelief by your action or neglect. The remedy provided by God's grace is simple. If you thirst, then drink: if you hunger, then eat: if you are weary and heavy laden (with doubts of the reality and retributions and rewards of the future world), come to Jesus, the light of the world. If the deep feeling which they have who thirst and hunger, is not yours, your duty is the same: it is still obey—do what the Master directs. You begin to be a Christian, by beginning to follow Christ.

ONLY THE BEGINNING.

Remember that beginning is only beginning. You, like many others, have thought the starting hard and the following easy. The reverse is the truth. The beginning is easy and the hard part is afterwards. Beginning is buckling on the armor and starting for the field where the hot battle rages, where the enemy will strike and shoot and where your endurance will be tasked and tested. It might have been easy for Noah to take his ax and hew out the first timber, but building the ark became hard work before he had been at it one hundred and twenty years. It might have been easy for Abraham to go the first mile, but before he had been many days in the scorching and untrodden desert lying between Mesopotamia and Canaan, it got to be hard work.

But we need not be anxious about the future. Present duty is to begin, and blessed be God, this is simple and easy.

GOD'S MARVELOUS GOODNESS.

God is marvelously good to make the way of salvation so simple that it is possible to all. What if He had walled Heaven so high that only now and then some mighty man could climb up and get in! What if He required some enormous toll so that only the Astors and Stewarts and Vanderbilts could pass through the gates of pearl! What if he demanded that every toiling father, and every weary mother, and every little child, and every hollow-cheeked consumptive, and every one crippled or blind or dumb, should build an ark! But he has provided the ark and set the door open and asks—only what the weary and the weak can easily do, especially by his gracious help—that is, that you enter in. The river of life flows at your feet, you have only to wash and be clean. Praise ye the Lord. Let every believer answer, Bless the Lord, O my soul and all that is within me, bless His holy name; who forgiveth all my iniquities, who healeth all my diseases.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.—It will be seen by reference to our advertising columns that the Exchange Hotel property is offered for sale. This is a good chance for an investment for any one who knows how to keep a hotel or who wants to invest in town property.

REMOVALS.—Thomas & Hunt have moved their office to the grocery store of Thomas & Bidwell one door west of the Express office. Mr. Bibb, the blind man who kept the stand in the Post-office, has moved into Williams' Boot and Shoe Store, College block.

PHOTOGRAPHING.—Mr. M. Hiler's card appears in this paper. He holds forth at Rue's old gallery, near the Exchange Hotel and takes pictures which speak for themselves. Mr. Hiler makes a specialty of children's pictures. Give him a call.

I. O. G. T.—Officers and members of Cottonwood Lodge No. 135, I. O. G. T., are requested to meet next Wednesday evening April 11th, at their Hall, for the election of officers and to attend to other business of importance.

Report of the Solano Grand Jury

SUISUN, April 1.—The Grand Jury presented their final report at three o'clock P.M. of county affairs for three years last past:

The Tax Collector, from 1874 to 1876, is behind $827. The accounts of the present incumbent are correct.

The Auditor, 1874 to 1876, overcharged on duplicate assessment rolls $1,665, and is censured for the manner in which his books were kept. The present incumbent is censured for not being more strict in auditing accounts against the county.

The Treasurer, 1874 to 1876, made an error of $9.75, and is censured. The present incumbent is correct.

The Commissioner of Highways and Road Overseer have expended on roads for two years, including Salary of Commissioner, $31,582. Amount expended for the past year, $9,624. The Commissioner and Overseer are charged with receiving nearly $500 in excess of legal charges.

The Assessor, 1874 to 1876, is charged for excess of fees, $1,200, and for neglecting to collect on personal property, etc., $1,225; and is censured for not keeping a poll-tax roll. The cost of assessing for said years was $13,500, and for the past year $3,850. The present incumbent is charged with neglecting to assess over $40,000 worth of property, also with failure to collect on personal property, etc.

The Superintendent of Schools disbursed in three years over $1,585, and is charged with disbursing $4,156 illegally.

The Sheriff, 1874 to 1876, all O.K. The present incumbent has made errors in the jail account as to the number of days prisoners were boarded, and is censured as License Collector for not collecting some twenty-five licenses for liquors, etc.

The Supervisors are charged with very voluminous, excessive and illegal bills allowed Justices and Constables. The criminal expenses for three years were over $2,450, nearly one-half charged to Vallejo, and the other one-third to Suisun. Total amount of all criminal expenses for said time, nearly $55,000. Amount of claims allowed in three years, nearly 177,000. They are also charged with allowing the County Printer more than contract prices. The Supervisors are therefore charged with receiving over $1,000 in excess of legal charges.

The indebtedness of the county is $228,400.

The Grand Jury report that time will not allow the examination of the Recorder's and Clerk's offices, and turn those officials over to the tender mercies of the April Grand Jury, which meets on the 2d instant.

They have given the Surveyor, Public Administrator and Coroner the cold shoulder, no mention of them being made. The report is voluminous, consumed two hours in reading, and winds up with the usual recommendations as to changes in statutes, and is signed by the whole jury.

Letter from Wade Hampton to the President.

WASHINGTON, April 31.—The following is Wade Hampton's letter to the President:

WILLARD'S HOTEL,
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 31, 1877.

The result of the Conference, to which you did me the honor to invite me, has been to leave in my mind the conviction that you sincerely desire to see a peaceful and just settlement of the question which is distracting our people and injuring seriously the material interests of our State, and I trust you are equally convinced of my earnest wish to aid in accomplishing this happy end. As I may not have the pleasure of seeing you again on this subject, it may be proper to put before you in the fullest and most definite form the assurance given you verbally. I repeat, therefore, that if the Federal troops are withdrawn from the State House, there shall be on my part, or that of my friends, no resort to violence to assert our claims; but that we shall look for their maintainence solely to such peaceful remedies as the Constitution and laws of the State provide. I shall use all my authority to repress the use or exhibition of force in the settlement of all disputed questions, and this authority shall be exercised in such a manner that peace shall be preserved. We only desire the establishment in our State of a government which will secure to every citizen, the lowest as well as the highest, black as well as white, a full and equal protection, and the enjoyment of all his rights under the Constitution of the United States. No one can be more deeply impressed than myself with the imperative necessity of establishing cordial relations between all classes and both races in South Carolina, for it is only by these means that the true and enduring welfare of the State can be secured. With a recognition of the perfect equality of every citizen before the law; with a just and impartial administration of the laws; with a practical, secure exercise of the right of suffrage; with a system of public education which will open the avenues of knowledge to all classes, we may hope to see our State soon take the position for which she is entitled.

It was the patriotic hope to aid in the accomplishment of these high aims that called me from my retirement to become a candidate for the office of Governor of South Carolina. It was through the confidence of the people of that State that I would honestly and faithfully carry out all these purposes that I was elected their Chief Magistrate. I feel profoundly that peace can be preserved there, and prosperity restored, by assuring our people that the right of local self government, so prominently brought forth in your inaugural and so favorably received by the whole country, is to be promptly carried out as the rule of your administration. I anticipate the ready fulfillment of the just and reasonable hopes inspired by the announcement of the policy you have unfolded—a policy which found a responsive echo in every patriotic heart, as indicating a purpose to administer the Government in the true spirit of the Constitution. In conclusion, permit me to assure you that I feel the strongest confidence that the wise and patriotic policy announced in your inaugural will, as soon as it takes shape in action, produce fruits that the whole country will enjoy—the blessings of peace, prosperity and harmony. Thanking you, sir, for the courtesy you have extended to me, and with my good wishes, I am, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

WADE HAMPTON,
Governor of South Carolina.

CLOSE OF SCHOOLS. — The public schools of this city close to-morrow for the Spring vacation, after an eight months term.

Decay of the Teeth

Arises from various causes, but principally it may be attributed to early neglect or the indiscriminate use of tooth powders and pastes, which give a momentary whiteness to the teeth while they corrode the enamel. The timely use of that delicate aromatic tooth-wash, Fragrant SOZODONT, will speedily arrest the progress of decay, harden the gums, and impart a delightful fragrance to the breath. It removes those ravages which people sustain in their teeth from the use of sweet and acid articles.

A Card to the Public.

For many years we have made two medicines suited to the ailments of a vast class of sufferers. Thousands of cures have been made by them, and, in fact, the word failure could not be coupled with them. But within the last two years counterfeits of our medicines have sprung up, dangerous in their close imitation of our trade mark. To secure the people we have placed upon each genuine box of Holloway's Ointment, the fac simile of the signature of our agent Mr. Jos. Haydock. To counterfeit is felony. We shall relentlessly pursue any one who imitates this with the utmost vigor of the law. We most earnestly beg that the great mass of American people will aid us in our efforts to protect their health, and help us in our task of bringing these most unprincipled men to the bar of justice. Uniformly refuse to purchase Medicines purporting to be ours unless Mr. Jos. Haydock's signature is attached to each box of Pills or pot of Ointment, and the end will soon be reached.

The public's obedient servants,
HOLLOWAY & Co.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—TURN OF LIFE.—Armed with this great antidote, the fiery ordeal is passed through and the sufferer once more restored to the possession of unimpaired health. These pills are equally efficacious in all female complaints, and disorders at the dawn of womanhood. Sold everywhere. 25 cents per box or pot.

DR. A. JOHNSON, one of the most successful practitioners of his time, invented what is now called "Johnson's Anodyne Liniment." The great success of this article in the cure of Bronchitis and all diseases of throat and lungs, will make the name of Johnson not less favorably, if less widely known, than that of Louis Napoleon.

THE public are hereby assured, through the columns of THE YOLO DEMOCRAT, that "Parson's Purgative Pills" contain no injurious principle, but that they may be administered to children and the most weak and shattered constitutions in small doses, with great certainty of success.

Do it at Once!!
If a tithe of the testimonials now on hand of the value of Dr. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY should be published, no one would stop to read the bulky volume. Ask any druggist and he will tell you that this BALSAM is a real blessing to all affected with throat or long diseases. All kindred affections, including Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Croup, Hoarseness, Pains in the Chest, and Bleeding of the Lungs, yield to its wonderful power. We advise any one tired of experimenting with Physicians' prescriptions or quack medicines to drop them at once and use this BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. Sold by all druggists.

A Sense of Weariness

Is often felt by persons who cannot locate any particular disease. If they work, it becomes labor; if they walk, they soon tire; mental efforts become a burden, and even joys are dimmed by the shadow of this weakness which is cast over their lives. Recourse is had sometimes to stimulants of a dangerous character. The advice of physicians to refrain from active labor produces no happy results. Why? The system is debilitated and needs to be built up properly. PERUVIAN SYRUP will do this very thing. Like the electric current, it permeates the entire system, and harmonizing with the corporeal functions, it raises up the enfeebled and brings the color to the cheek again, and hope to the despondent. It does its work promptly and well. Sold by all druggists.

Strange, but True.

Your Cough is killing you! Is your life worth 25 cents? If so, use "Dr. Seth Arnold's Cough Killer," the great eradicator of all Lung Diseases. It is superior to all other remedies yet discovered for Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Whooping Cough, Croup, and all diseases of the Throat and Lungs. Price 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00. Call on E. BYNUM & Co., Agents, Woodland, Cal., and obtain a bottle. If relief is not afforded, money refunded. Two doses will relieve the most severe case. A sure, speedy, and perfectly safe remedy, proved by trial to excel any other in the world. Remember it is warranted. Compounded by the Dr. Seth Arnold Medical Corporation, Woonsocket, R. I.

After Twenty Years.

Although you've been a husband true,
'Tis many a year gone by, John,
And I'm a faithful wife to you
(And will be till I die, John),
We led a lonely sort of life,
With no sweet child to bless us,
Till Bessy came last Christmas day,
To comfort and caress us.

Our baby has a father gray,
A mother none too young, John,
And yet it seems the time of May,
E'er since our birding sang, John,
She brought new life into the house,
The little, prattling stranger,
And John, she binds you to your home
Who might have been a ranger.

Once every chair was in its place,
And not a thing awry, John,
Yet we two, sitting face to face,
Would often breathe a sigh, John
But now upon our ample board
Is daily placed between us
A picture-plate and porringer,
From loneliness to wean us.

While she our little baby queen,
With eyes so like your own, John,
(The brightest, bluest ever seen),
Eats with us on her throne, John.
Heaven guard our precious little one
May angels fair, that brought her,
Protect from every threat'ning ill
The "old folks'" little daughter.

T. Wallace Moore was brutally murdered eight miles from Santa Paula, Cal., March 24. The parties had set fire to his barn. The light from the burning barn woke the occupants of the house, and they rushed out for the purpose of letting loose the horses, when they were fired upon by a party of five men. Moore was shot several times in the head and neck and died instantly.

The hopes of Hayes are that he will be able to get an Administration majority in the House, through a discreet use of his Southern patronage, and by promises of large expenditures of public money in Southern internal improvements. The bargain he is trying to make is utterly discreditable, and it is gratifying to see that the fraudulent President has succeeded in purchasing his men.

Miss Thursby, the vocalist who accompanied Gilmore's Band to this country last year, has been offered by Maurice Strakosh, the famous impressario, $100,000 a year with two months of each year thrown in for rest, to sing under his management. Talent has no full equivolent in money. A high salary to such a vocalist is only an acknowledgement of rare talent, which this lady possesses in a high degree.

The California hop crop promises to exceed in profit all other profits of the farm. Hops have proved a failure in England, and the demand for California's surplus is accordingly very good at remunerative prices. It is a temptation to any farmer who has a strip of rich alluvial soil to engage in hop growing, especially when the market ranges as at present from 24 to 28 cents per pound, and when he can produce 2,000 pounds to the acre, as many farmers average.

Nineteen hundred years ago there was a great disturbance in Jeruselem about the water supply, which was not sufficient, and the Roman Governor, who was anxious to get a supply to the city, proposed to bring it from a distance of fifty miles. The Jews refused the money for the purpose, whereupon the governor—Pontius Pilate, seized upon the sacred treasury, and made an aqueduct through the solid rock, thus carrying water to Jerusalem, and it exists to the present day.

Capt. Boyton recently swam across the passage between the Island of Capri and the port of Naples. Capt. Boyton started toward 3 in the morning, and, although he did not stop on the way, he only reached the steps situated on the east of the Nationale at thirty five minutes past 7 in the evening, the wind and strong current having delayed him several hours. He was followed by several steamers bearing the American flag, and landed in the presence of Victor Emanuel and a large number of spectators.

The Order of Caucasians at Chico recently held a meeting and passed the following resolutions: "That this Camp offer a reward of $300 for the arrest and conviction of the persons who murdered the Chinese at Lemm's ranch on the night of March 15th; provided the murderers were not Chinamen. And this Camp offers a further reward of $50 for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who wrote the threatening letters to different citizens of Chico and vicinity during the past two days."

A Good Education.—To read the English language well, to write a legible hand, and be master of the first four rules of arithmetic so as to dispose of at once, with accuracy, every question of figures which comes up in practice—I call this a good education. And if you add the ability to write pure, grammatical English, I regard it as an excellent education. These are the tools. You can do much with them, but you are powerless without them. They are the foundations; and unless you begin with these, all your flashy attainments, a little geology, and all other ologies and osophies, are ostentatious rubbish.—Edward Everett.

Centaur Liniments!

One Kind for the Human Family,

The other for Horses & Animals.

These Liniments are simply the wonder of the world. Their effects are little less than marvellous.

THE WHITE LINIMENT is for the human family. It will drive Rheumatism, Sciatica and Neuralgia from the system; cures Lumbago, Chilblains, Lock-jaw, Palsy, Itch, and most cutaneous eruptions; it extracts frost from frozen hands and feet, and the poison of bites and stings of venomous reptiles; it subdues swellings, and alleviates pain of every kind. When sprains or bruises occur, it is the most potent remedy ever discovered to heal the injured parts. The Centaur Liniment is used with great efficacy for sore Throat, TOOTHACHE, CAKED BREASTS, Earache, and Weak Back. The following is but a sample of numerous testimonials:

"INDIANA HOME, JEFF. CO., IND., May 28, 1873. "I think it my duty to inform you that I have suffered much with swollen feet and chords. A few bottles of Centaur Liniment has done the work for me. I have not been free from these swellings in eight years. Now I am perfectly well. The Liniment ought to be applied warm. BENJAMIN BROWN."

The proof is in the trial. It is reliable, it is handy, it is cheap, and every family should have the White Centaur Liniment,

THE YELLOW CENTAUR LINIMENT is adapted to the tough muscles, cords and flesh of horses and animals. It has performed more wonderful cures, in the cases of Spavin, Strain, Wind galls, Scratches, Sweeny, and general Lameness, than all other remedies in existence. Read what the great Expressmen say of it:

"NEW YORK, January, 1874. "Every owner of horses should give the CENTAUR LINIMENT a trial. We consider it the best article ever used in our stables. "H. MARSH, Sup't Adams Ex. Stables, N.Y. "E. PULTZ, Sup't U. S. Ex. Stables, N.Y. "A. S. OLIN, Sup't Nat. Ex. Stables, N.Y."

The best patrons of this Liniment are Farriers and Veterinary Surgeons, who are continually using some Liniment. It heals Galls, Wounds and Poll-evil, removes Swellings, and is worth millions of dollars annually to Farmers, Livery men, Stock-growers, Sheep-raisers, and those having horses or cattle.

What a Farrier cannot do for $20 the Centaur Liniment will do at a trifling cost.

These Liniments are sold by all dealers throughout the country. They are warranted by the proprietors, and a bottle will be given to any Farrier or Physician who desires to test them.

PITCHER'S CASTORIA is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and Irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. Few remedies are as efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and Whooping Cough. Castoria is a scientific and purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gags nor gripes. Prepared by Messrs. J. B. MARK THESE FACTS

The Testimony of the Whole World.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

"I had no appetite; Holloway's Pills gave me a hearty one."

"Your Pills are marvellous."

"I send for another box, and keep them in the house."

"Dr. Holloway has cured my headache that was chronic."

"I gave one of your Pills to my babe for cholera morbus. The dear little thing got well in a day."

"My nausea of a morning is now cured."

"Your box of Holloway's Ointment cured me of noises in the head. I rubbed some of your Ointment behind the ears, and the noise has left."

"Send me five boxes of your Pills."

"Let me have three boxes of your Pills by return mail, for Chills and Fever."

I have over 200 such testimonials as these, but want of space compells me to conclude.

For Cutaneous Disorders,

And all eruptions of the skin, this Ointment is most invaluable. It does not heal externally alone, but penetrates with the most searching effects to the very roots of the evil.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS

Invariably cure the following diseases

Disorder of the Kidneys.

In all diseases affecting these organs, whether they secrete too much or too little water, or whether they be afflicted with stone or gravel or with aches and pains settled in the loins over the regions of the kidneys, these Pills should be taken according to the printed directions, and the Ointment should be well rubbed into the small of the back at bedtime. This treatment will give almost immediate relief when all other means have failed.

For Stomachs Out of Order.

No medicine will so effectually improve the tone of the stomach as these pills; they remove all acidity occasioned either by intemperance or improper diet. They reach the liver and reduce it to a healthy action; they are wonderfully efficacious in cases of spasm, in fact they never fail in curing all disorders of the liver and stomach.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS are the best known in the world for the following diseases; Ague, Asthma, Billious Complaints, Blotches on the Skin, Bowels, Consumption, Debility, Dropsy, Dysentery, Erysipelas, Female Irregularities, Fevers of all kinds, Fits, Gout, Headache, Indigestion, Inflammation, Jaundice Lumbago, Liver Complaints, Piles, Rheumatism, Retention of Urine; scrofula or King's Evil, sore Throat, Stone and Gravel, Tiedoloroux, Tumors, Ulcers, Worms of all kinds, Weakness from any cause, etc.

IMPORTANT CAUTION.

None are genuine unless the signature of J. HAYDOCK, as agent for the United States, surrounds each box of Pills and Ointment. A handsome reward will be given to anyone rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

 Sold at the manufactory of Prof. HOLLOWAY & Co., New York, and by all respectable druggists and dealers in medicine throughout the civilized world, in boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents and $1 each.

☞ There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

N. B. Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each box.

SOMETHING NEW

At 169, 171 and 177 K Street,

SACRAMENTO CAL.

AITKEN & LUCE

Make the following proposition to those who wish Monuments or Headstones, and who come to the City for the express purpose of selecting.

We will pay the R.R. fare both ways when the distance and amount of purchase compare with the following table:

$50 00	Contract—	30	miles or less.
$75.00	"	40	" "
$100.00	"	50	" "
$250.00	"	75	" "
$500.00	"	150	" "
$1,000.00	"	300	" "

Thus giving purchasers the opportunity of making their selections, instead of dealing with inexperienced canvassers.

Cut this out and bring it with you, and after you have made your purchase, present it, and we will give you credit for your R. R. fare both ways.

Our Government.

THE CENTURY OF INDEPENDENCE

Embraces a collection from official sources of the most important documents and statistics connected with the political history of America; also a chronological record of the principal events from its discovery to the present time, with biographical and historical sketches, etc. Printed in German and English. Nearly 800 pages.

Never before has so much practical information of this nature been published in any one volume.

The lawyer, banker, merchant and farmer will each conclude that it must have been prepared especially with reference to his convenience.

It is designed for this work to take the place in politics that Webster's Dictionary does in language, and Appleton's Gazetteer in general literature. The binding, paper and illustrations have been made to compare with the general character of the work.

Though a person can be a good citizen without a thorough education, no good citizen can enjoy the right of franchise intelligently without possessing the information contained in this book.

While persons refuse to purchase ordinary or expensive works, all classes will gladly avail themselves of the opportunity for obtaining a work so indispensable at so low a price, $2.50.

Sold only by subscription.

Send for special circulars and terms to agents.

A NEW PLAN.

Solicitors for premium papers should write us at once. The burden of a heavy load removed. Samples all carried out of sight. Send for terms for the cheapest paper published, with a fine engraving (25x32) for a premium.
